WOMAN KILLED

BY FLYING JOCK — MAN ESCAPES ON HAIRY POGO-STICK

Special to the Toike (PIU)

Earlier today at the University of Toronto, Barbara Buxley, a lady gymnast who was giving an exhibition of her skills on the balance beam, was brutally killed by an "unidentified" flying object. The Toike later learned that the murder weapon has been identified as a jock. The police have urged all citizens to immediately notify their nearest police station if any information can be given about the murder suspect.

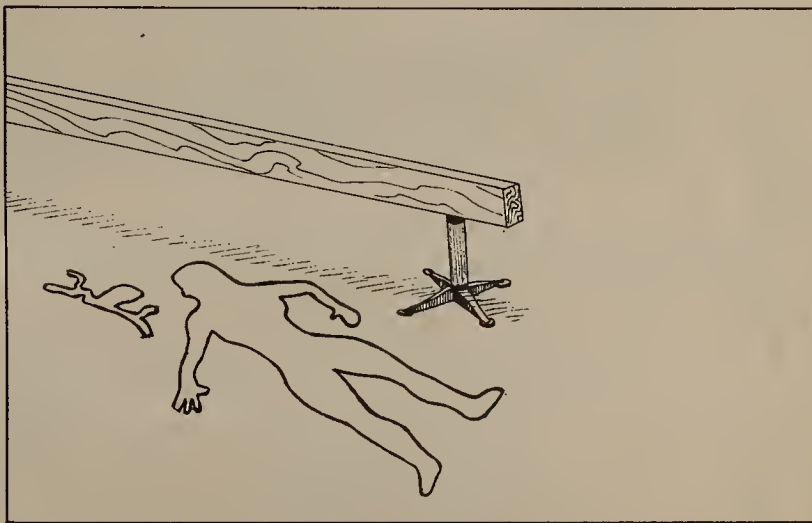

The murder occurred about 9:53 last evening in the Benson Building, the ladies' athletic section of the University of Toronto campus. Hundreds attended the gymnastic demonstration and many could give a detailed description of the alleged "giant pogo-stick". The few that did see the man's face managed to piece together a police artist composite of the suspect.

The suspect has been identified as twenty-two-year-old Jacques Alaut, a third year physical education student at the university. The police have questioned several of his friends but none know of Alaut's whereabouts.

The Toike tracked down the suspect's family doctor and in an exclusive interview he told the private detective of Alaut's medical history. Dr. Hastings told the Toike that the suspect had first come to him eleven months ago complaining of an abnormal rate of growth of a private part of his anatomy. The doctor prescribed some "red pills", he said but after four pairs of ripped pants, Alaut went back to Hastings for more advice.

More pills of a different colour were prescribed and the doctor advised Alaut to take four pills daily and to refrain from arousing activity. It seems that the suspect could not read and therefore took one pill every four days. Needless to say, the pills did not work and Alaut's tailor was interviewed and he said that he had never seen so many ripped out crotches in his life.

Hastings told Alaut that the only solution for the problem was an extra double jock; one with metal reinforcements where the elastic was in regular jocks. Hastings told the Toike that this was the last time he had heard from Alaut and he had assumed that the problem had been beaten. Dr. Hastings has been detained by police for further questioning. It is possible that he will be charged with aiding a criminal but no formal charge has yet been laid.

"... she didn't have a chance ..."

Eyewitnesses to the brutal slaying were using adjectives like "unbelievable", "uncanny accuracy" and "tragic" to describe the way Miss Buxley met her end. Most witnesses were amazed at the agility of the suspect employed in his escape from the gymnasium. A security guard outside the building failed to stop the slippery Alaut's escape. "What amazed me most," he said, "was the way he avoided the stones."

A preliminary coroner's report stated that the girl died of massive brain hemorrhaging almost instantly after the object struck her. Additional information revealed a broken neck suffered in the fall from the balance beam on which she was performing.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Back at the campus, a group has been organized to ostracize all physical education students. "Jocks off Campus" is the name of the group but as yet no specific plans have been made for the execution of this plan.

The investigation continues.

What is a Jock ?

Between the time you unload your first eight big ones on the admissions office, and the time you relieve yourself on the walls of the cafeterias for the last time, you're certain to run into the strange animal known as a jock. You can pick him out from a crowd because he's the one eating barbells, or is constantly telling himself how athletically superb he really is. All in all, one of the most boring farts on campus. (That is, besides a women's libber. Who gives a damn for them, I mean who does?)

If you walk into Hard House, you can find rows of them in the washrooms, comparing length, weight and storage capacity. Or comparing stories about how many women they tamed last night (yawn). You might guess that a jock's life is a very boring one. Ho ho, you are right. But then again, it makes the artsies you find in the washrooms earning spending money a little (maybe even a lot) easier to take.

A jock has all the brains of a steel girder, the personality of a cowflap, the looks of a jackass, and the smell of fermenting diarrhoea. But, don't underestimate the incredible bodies they have built for themselves. (Girls beware) Where else could a man build himself a dominating decrease his genital dimensions by repeated steroid injections? No where else but in athletics.

You probably figure that these muscle bound oafs have all the chicks, because of their bodies. Wrong again. They have all the chicks because they are always discussing the latest hairstyles and the new fab body deodorants that make their rotting hides smell as fresh as a newly killed Buffalo.

But, something must be said for their lack of intelligence as well. If you were not a jock, how could you expect to carry on an intelligent conversation with a rock if you hadn't been training as a football player for at least 18 months? Do you think you could seriously win arguments with others about the colour of the sky if you weren't a hockey player? (Of course not, unless someone told the hockey player the real answer before hand).

Don't fall into the popular trap that athletes don't have brains when it comes to doing school work. I have yet to see a jock who couldn't hold a pencil right after the third try. And, in all honesty, can you ever recall when a jock failed to do his homework as long as numbers bigger than 10 were not allowed? Not one of you can claim that and be telling the truth. (by the way, if a jock should be reading this, I will still avoid using only one syllable words, no matter how much trouble

Dick is a mental incompetant

Well its up to our second last issue of the year, and I am very relieved. You won't believe how producing this rag has got in between me and my spare time (take the job they told me, its a great oportunity to meet big breasted, voluptuous nymphomaniac woman). All I do is work and more work, can you spare a dime for a starving artist.

I'm feeling kind tonight, so I would like to apologise for anything I may have done to anyone this year (not that you didn't deserve everything you got). I would also like to say if you're looking for a good time, call Jim Burpee 928-2917.

I haven't much to say (not that this is a variance from the norm) so I'll sign off now, reminding you all that of all the people on campus, jocks are the biggest dorks of all.

Love Dick.

To our leade
To whom it may concern
Hey You Jerk,

We at Cawthra Park Secondary School, Mississauga, have read a few issues of your publication, journal, dirty magazine, containing porno pictures, dirty jokes and trash in general. Being the concerned citizens that we are, we will try to raise the quality and standards (as well as get our name in your paper) by sending you these few jokes. In the true Toike spirit, we have stolen them from other people.

BELATED CHRISTMAS JOIKES

If there are two Santa clauses stuck in a chimney, how can you tell which is the real one and which is the Jock?

A. The Jock Santa Clause is carrying Easter eggs.

Around Christmas time the North Pole is a pretty busy place. Everybody is hurrying to get ready for the big day. Now, this one little angel, whose job it was to stack Christmas trees ran out of room as he got to the last tree. Not knowing what to do, he dragged it to where Santa was working and said "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, what do you want me to do with this Christmas tree?" Santa Claus told him and that's why every Christmas since then, the angel sits on top of the Christmas tree.

Q. Why won't Mrs. Claus ever get pregnant?
A. Because Santa's bag is full of toys.

Have you heard about the Rosemary Wood cocktail?
One drink and your mind goes blank.

Q. What sits on the bottom of the ocean and shakes?

A. A nervous wreck.

Q. What is the definition of a farmer?

A. A man outstanding in his field.

There was a man who went to see his doctor about a circumcision. He was talking to the nurse who said that the doctor was very busy and was cutting everybody short. The man turned green and left in a hurry with his hands between his legs.

Dear Toikeditor (that's you, Pearse, you bag biter)
This is your contributing staff talking. Well, how about giving us a clue about the new T*ike? What is the Theme?? Can you take a moment of your time to WRITE A FUCKING NOTE OF EXPLANATION? I tried to find you Bastards, but I might as well be looking for a virgin on campus. So give a reply.

P.S. If you don't, terrible things will happen to your manhood.

Dear Dick,

Having read your editorial, and knowing the situation at UC, I can understand Lefkowitz Stein's manner. He is a "—" (Ed Note: Try a cunt faced worm ass licker) who is heavily beset with problems. ie. (Should I get a less conspicuous handle for my rake? Why do Maritime girls feel so at home with me? What does an Engineer have that I don't have? (Ed. Note: A Tool). We can all readily sympathize with this. His criticism of the T*ike and Engineers in general are manifestations generated from these problems, the greatest of which should be the attracted container (Ed. Note: I lost the gist). If he should have the guts to take the problem in hand, armed with the potential of beating it once and for all, and finally executing that task, he will find himself restored to peace of mind, living in peaceful co-existence, and

!!! an asset to the (ugh) SAC council.

Further Mathematical Investigations on the Problem (?) of Equality of the Sezes (i.e. Jocks and Jockettes, and Engineers)

In the last article ("Mathematical Investigation on the Problem of Equality of the Sexes", Feb. 6, 1975) there was stated a masterpiece, messierpiece of non-deductive logic titled "The principle of Male Supremacy" (PMS) which purported to disprove the Principle of Female Equality. This article will also prove the Principle of Female Equality wrong by patching up the tremendous flaws in the PMS, thereby proving it totally ridiculous and hence the proof of PFS (Principle of Female Supremacy) will be done.

We begin with the baseless, nonsensical statement that males equal females. As in the past article X = female and Y = male.

X = Y
X + Y = 2X
(X + Y) (X - Y) = 2X(X - Y)
(Y + X)(Y - X) = 2Y(Y - X)
2Y(Y - X) = 0
therefore, Y = 0

If Y = 0 then (going to the theory of probability) the probability that males can do algebra is obviously zero, which disproves the PMS devastatingly.

X = Y
X + Y = 2X
X + Y = 2X
2X = 2X
But X is Real (???????????)

X can be any real number, so females can do anything therefore females are superior! But, of course this fact was intuitively obvious from the beginning, and did not need to be proven mathematically anyway (except to correct the nonexistent yet faulty male intuition).

Of course these proofs are totally imaginary. If you assume X = Y then X and Y can be interchanged at random and both this issue's and last issue's articles are trivial, again proving the obvious female supremacy. (I mean Why Not?) Conclusion: Males and females are equal, but Eng Sci's are better?

Women's Hockey Team

Our season began with three dissappointments. We were out of shape from our relaxing holidays and our fighting spirits had not yet taken hold of us. We lost 2-0 against St. Hilda's, 3-2 against New College with Sharon Rice and Marta Ecsedi scoring for us and we tied PHE 0-0. But we were not going to let the playoffs slip out of our hands so easily. So with a few words from our ever patient coach, Jim Montgomery, our manager, Wayne Maddever and our trainer, Juris Balins; we made a victorious comeback. Our victories were 3-0 vs St. Mike's with goals by Nora Stewart, Sandy Couperthwaite, and Anne Zielinski; 7-0 vs POTS scoring Couperthwaite, Rice and Ecsedi; 3-0 vs Law, excellent shooting by Stewart, Couperthwaite and Rice. Our marvelous goaltending was done by Tina Tolpa, our veteran goal tender of three years and Debbie Anthony, our rookie with great prospects.

Many thanks to our coach, manager, trainer and fans for their patience and enthusiasm. Congratulations to Sharon Rice; she was voted most valuable player.

Women's Athletics The Year of the Woman Basketball:

This year engineering basketball started off very strong but suffered from the old choking syndrome. This ailment, well known amongst athletes, always strikes at the most crucial part of the season. The most crucial part of the season was the playoffs.

Starting into the playoffs, engineering had lost no games but the margins of win had been decreasing. Scores of 32-4, 22-7, 34-11 slipped in the playoffs to levels reminiscent of former years. The eliminating game was lost at 11-4 to New College.

Unfortunately the N.C. team had at least one ringer playing, and although they won the championship game, they were disqualified on this basis. Someday the Women's Athletic Association will realize that winning is important to women regardless of the level of the league. In such cases rematches should be made.

Heidi Breslauer was elected most valuable player of the team with a scoring average of 10 points per game.

Volleyball:

Two teams were entered into competition this year, in two different leagues. The first team played and defeated every team in its league with the exception of PHED. This was the final stumbling block to the championship. Phys Ed fielded two strong teams which went on to the final games of the league leaving engineering in third place.

The second team in a lower league, was overly skilled for the level of play predominating. With little difficulty they took the league championship. Defaults of other teams were a disappointment to a full team. This might have had something to do with the laxness of the officiating and the lack of recognition of the league for the women's equivalent of the T A Reed Trophy.

Women like to win and they like to be recognized, as do any other athletes. The level of sports they play will always remain low if the rules are not applied properly and a serious attitude is not taken. It is disheartening that the Benson Building's attitude is working to keep women's competitive athletics at a low quality.

A women's team entered the civil volleyball tournament and the engineering volleyball tournament. They lost both early in play BUT one thing was gained: the team was looked upon as serious competition.

The volleyball MVP goes to Edita Boni, a rather skilled and serious player from Jamaica.

JOCKS

Definition: JOCK - A large aggressive overgrown, overbearing individual. Noted for lack of tact and brains. Often seen running around the track pursued by obnoxious yellow green cloud and multitude of ugly flies. Throw back to the ancient "Vilus Hairiest" speices of the Pleistocene era.

It has been argued by many theologians that the bible has been called the holy bible due to its painfully obvious lack of information regarding what to do about jocks.

As such man can only theorize how and why jocks were placed on this fair earth. One prominent deodorant company official feels that they represent the ultimate goal: a deodorant that works for jocks! This same official feels however that the only true effective means would be by asphaltting their armpits or by means of a spray shellac.

Psychologists view them as an abundant supply of subjects; rhesus monkeys also have a much larger attention span than the average jock as such they learn much faster, some experiments need be repeated a mere seven times for the average monkey. As such jocks give a better picture of the functions of a primitive brain. Unfortunately, Jocks man instinctive philosophy has been found to be: "if it doesn't move eat it." This has regretfully resulted in the loss of several dozen important lab rats and some twenty hypodermic needles. Many a technician working with Jocks has been annoyed at finding teeth marks on gas jets, balances and on the padlocks to the broom closets. Jocks tend to become very annoyed when their curiosities are stifled. Mike Lasky being a perfect example of such animalistic behaviour. Is this a true picture? Are Jocks truly parasitic vermin, whose only aim in life is to develop those rippling biceps that women find so repulsive and all men throw up over? The question has been raised in many circles as to whether Jocks are screaming blasphemous faggots or just plain idiots. That one is a bit too hot to handle for even the Toike.

But since no one knows who wrote this!!!!!!

*NOTE the opinions presented hereforth are the opinions of all god fearing normal people and as such must be considered as the truth. THANK YOU!

Yes this is a sign that jocks are faggots! Who in his right mind would spend literally hours every day, days that turn into weeks, weeks that drag into months and months that become years pushing more iron than stelco does in a year? FAGGOTS that's who! Who else feels a compulsion to develop the body to such an extent that there is no doubt what so ever as to his or her sex? (Libbers please note "all is fair in love and war.")

FAGGOTS that's who! (or lesbians)

They train every day till the sweat drops off their noses, the barbells wear through or become too hot to handle, or till the stench drives them all from the room. What for? Can anyone tell me? All this self torture so that they can stand on some little felt box showing off. LADEEDA!! Who else??

LEDEBETTER: who else? You guessed it. Actually to be completely truthful this is not a fair representation as some faggots, fools, gay boys, lesbians, abominations sorry got carried away there: do actually have a mind. Even if it is warped irreparably with regard to the true order of nature as God, the supreme one, Allah, the cosmic deity, the knower of all truth and wisdom dictated it.

But enough of this hilarity. On to more serious things, the Western Guard has suggested a novel way of controlling such vermin. Mandatory castration and a 24 hr. hunting system with no limit are but a few. Lets hear it for the Western Guard, three cheers for the Western Guards constructive thinking.

Dick goes to a Cultural Affair

Yes folks this is the issue you have all been waiting for. Dick actually is (or I should say has gone) going to a cultural affair. The air was filled with breathless excitement as my date and I entered the theatre. Taking our seats either side of the aisle (funny joke Cox, I hope a weird Buddhist Monk does demented things with a Skilsaw and a Black & Decker drill to your only sister.) we elected to sit on the same side of said aisle (front row ain't bad at all, in fact we both quite enjoyed it) so fingering Cox (no sir not you Dean Elkin I wasn't gesticulating at you) we sat down to enjoy that great Engineering revue, Skule Nite (if you missed it, you missed the best show of this University, this year!).

The show started with the typical overture, doing imaginative things with the letter spelling SKULE NITE. Immediately we were introduced to the entire cast of good looking women (and Debbie Waddel) as well as all the men (plus Rob West).

The stage then quietened from the introductory offering and we were greeted by an execution (some people believed that Baker should have been bumped off years ago). This execution was a reoccurring theme throughout the show with different means devised for the demise of The Bakes. Always the guard (Rob West) appeared with two plates (one in each hand) filled with (I presume) shaving cream. It wasn't till their last appearance did we see him use the cream on Baker's errogenous zone, as well as his face.

Following this came a Startrek skit (loosely based on the series). Especially good in the skit were Chekof (played by Harry Walsh) Spock (the Bakes again) and the rock (played by Weasal). The skit was imaginative and the effects (though some times not working perfectly) were well done (butter?).

Somewhere in the first act The SPSC came out and did its usual thing. Also a skit that stood out well as the Madge scene, incorporating many different aspects of the manicurist's advice about everything in life to people.

Following this was the silent force, a skit about a group of young women destroying people by their silence. Dave Allen did a good musical interlude of a stagehand that wan't to make it on the stage (called hi-diddle-de-dee, music stolen from the musical Pinocchio) and had to be dragged off stage when the applause went to his head. Also in the silent force (I forgot to mention this) Michael Henry (a mechanical) attempted to master the English language and of course failed, but at the same time he explained to us why people do things.

The first act also contained a good parody of a shifty youth's attempt to hussle his women in the '50's. This scene included an appearance by the Dembrowski Sisters (Rob West Paul Baker and Dave Allen) and they were just divine. The skit was called Sappy Days and most notable in the scene, were Janet Ross, Clair Watson, Dhyto Harris (as agreaser) and Galloway as the school principal.

The act concluded with the whole cast active in a bar scene singing the praises of alcohol to the tune of Hair.

The second act opened with a musical piece about the annex lunchroom with the boys in the cast. This was followed (and I'm not going to say we have the sequence of events right) by 'Standing on the Corner' concerning the ups and downs of the women of the night (in this piece the women (and Debbie) were dressed as sleazily as they dared, and I am not surprised to say a couple really looked the part as high priced hookers). There were also the SPS Awards for achievements in Engineering by the graduates of this honoured faculty.

The LGMB appeared at about the middle of the act and they would have been really great (except for the fact Bung turned up) but I couldn't see the band for Jim Burpee. (We did notice the absence of Doug Hooton, that fantastic little squirt, with the cute ass and the fucked up face).

The show ended extravagantly with a musical piece placed somewhere in the old west of the USA. Especially good in this were Walt Galloway, Dave Allen, Debbie Waddel (and the girls in the Chorus, pant, pant) Rob West (as the cutest sailor of a cowboy you have ever seen) and of Baker in various different guises.

All in all the show was well done (except for two people who should have stayed with the Toike, Parker and Jameison, love and kisses). And we at the Toike commend the crew of writers, the Producer Mike Cox, director Steve Cress and the entire cast.

- 19) Focusing Scale. Set approximate dimensions of subject on this scale for proper focus.
- 20) Depth of field: This scale enables photographer to capture all important picture details.
- 21) Diaphragm Ring: Marked in F! number. This scale reads the size of the aperture and is calibrated directly to give approximate number of F's it is good for, (at any one time). For example, a large opening might do for 11-16 F's, while a small one only 1.4 to 2 F's. Of course these figures are average. (Anybody using 4 F's must be some kind of half-assed photographer)
- 22) Switch this lever to "Auto", and camera auto work. (boooo)
- 23) Windshield wiper switch.

Special Features

Exclusive Through The Lens Muttering System:

This feature is of great use to any photographer who sometimes finds himself at a loss for words. If anything goes wrong an appropriate naughty word appears in the viewfinder, enabling photographer to release his frustrations by coarse mutterings, without having to remove his eye from the camera. Averaging type mutter gives perfect expletive under all conditions.

Interchangeable Viewing Screens:
Focusing screens are interchangeable for maximum versatility. Nudes in fifty different poses available to relieve eyestrain while taking family shots.

Removal Lens Crap:
Crap on lens allows creative flare and ghosting, thereby counteracting harmful effects of coating.

Bung Speaks Out

In the past two issues, we have run ads for Bung, trying to get him a date. We are now presenting a candid interview with Bung, taken at the last hockey game.

TOIKE: Say Bung.

Bung: Bung.

Toike: What do you think of the game tonight?

Bung: Oooohh wowww, that's some baaad weeed!

Toike: Where did you get the name Bung?

Bung: Many years ago, the legendary Mark F! and Alice bestoned it upon me in my first year.

Toike: What does it mean?

Bung: I don't know, I was drunk at the time (all of first, that is.)

Toike: When did you first notice that you were having problems getting dates?

Bung: When the first ad appeared.

Toike: What kind of response did you get to the ad?

Bung: Are you kidding?

Toike: No.

Bung: Oh, good.

Toike: You're eyes look pretty red.

Bung: Yes, I read a lot.

Toike: I notice that your arm is in a cast.

Bung: Hey, you're right. I think it happened when I fell off a sheep, or was it a horse.

Toike: Is there any truth to the rumour that you and Greg Young are actually the same Person?

Bung: I don't know, ask Greg.

Toike: Say Bung, you're right. That is some baaad weeed!

Bung: I need a drink.

McMaster University now has a third option for students interested in proceeding to a Master of Business Administration degree: a co-operative option, whereby students alternate four-month periods of study and relevant work experience. A limited number of applications will be accepted for the semester beginning in September, 1975.

Co-op

Part-time

An MBA degree from McMaster could help you to achieve your career objectives in the areas of management, administration, and education because the McMaster MBA program offers a wide range of optional courses (that can be selected to your needs) as well as providing a core of basic knowledge and skills. Although admission is restricted to those who have proven that they have the potential and commitment required to complete a demanding program, graduates in any discipline may be accepted.

Academic standing is not the only entry criterion but, as a general rule, you can have a reasonable expectation of completing the McMaster MBA program if you have maintained at least a second-class standing in the last two years of your undergraduate program and if you can achieve a satisfactory test score in the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business.

Applicants for the McMaster MBA who have taken relevant course work may be granted advanced standing in our program. If you are interested in exploring this challenging opportunity further, fill in and mail this form.

A Jock Fight Song

How to Recognize a Jock

On campus it is no problem for even the lowliest pharmacist to recognise a Jock. They wear those silly blue suits with the yellow stripes and they sweat alot. But how does one recognise the beast when he is not in his natural habitat? To the trained observer this is no problem. You can take the Jock out of the jungle but you can't wash the jungle out of the Jock. No matter where he is there are certain behavioral characteristics that will give him away. Here are 15 sure fire ways to identify a Jock in any situation.

1) He's the guy you see on the subway hanging by his toes from the hand holds.

2) He's the fellow (?) that goes into Harvey's and orders his hamburger with no pickles, no mustard and uncooked.

You can hear him bragging about all the tough courses he took in school, like "the psychology of sweat."

4) On the evening of his anniversary you'll find him in the pet shop buying a package of gift-wrapped Gainsburger for his wife.

5) On Friday afternoons you may see him by the lakefront trying to bench press the CN tower.

6) He's the guy who goes to the zoo to talk to his mother.

7) Tell him to find a piece of tail and he'll more than likely bring you an anaconda.

8) You can tell him in a drugstore, he always buys his deoderant in bulk.

9) He's the guy who leaves shot spots on your wall when you tell him to beat it.

10) He always rides a bike. They never could figure out how to wear them.

11) He's the guy who thinks an athletic supporter is a fellow who contributes to the save the Jocks fund.

12) He's the only guy at a formal who wears sweat socks and adidas with his tux.

13) He never reads playboy. The pictures are already coloured in.

14) He's the asshole with the nipple on his beer bottle.

15) He always dribbles before he shoots.

2 Types of Jokes

In response to many requests, let us explain that there are two types of jokes: clean jokes, and funny ones!

Here is one of the clean jokes:
Joe: "Heard you were moving your piano, so I came over to help."

Bob: "Thanks, but I've already moved it upstairs."

Joe: "Did you do it alone?"

Bob: "Nope. Hitched the cat to it."

Joe: "Now how could a cat pull a heavy piano like that up two flights of stairs?"

Bob: "Used a whip!"

Here is one of the funny ones:

The silly frosh girl had long been infatuated with the popular Radio Varsity disc jockey and got to meet him when the station held an open house. When she seductively suggested they get better acquainted, he took her into a vacant studio and unzipped his slacks. "I suppose you know what this is?" he whispered.

"I sure do," she said, grasping it in her hand. "I'd like to say hello to Ricky, Bobby, Tins and the whole gang down at Danny's Pizzeria."

A Jock Fight Song

We're the jocks with steel cocks, and skulls of thick concrete;

We live to play our sports all day, and smell like sweaty feet.

We know we're rough and bold and tough, we outdrink engineers

But bicep curls don't bring us girls, 'cause they all think we're queers.

Chorus

We're the jocks with ten pound cocks, but we're doomed to fail ...

We're forced to beat our useless meat, Because we can't get tail!

Don't throw up when we show up, or turn and quickly flee.

Because we're jocks, a rotting ox smells half as bad as we.

We don't mean to smell obscene, it comes from playing sports

But that's the wrath when we don't bath, we reek like month old shorts.

Repeat Chorus

We're the jocks with brains of rocks, that aren't much good for thinking.

I'll-mannered toils, we belch and drool, and constantly are stinking.

We put on skirts and act like flirts, and hope we're not detected

But any ass that makes a pass will soon find he's infected.

Repeat Chorus with feeling.

An old jock was dying (finally) and his children gathered at his bedside. The eldest, Bill, spoke in hushed tones, "Papa ... tell us ... where would you like to be buried ... here in Canada or back in California." The elder Mr. Hallett opened his eyes slightly and with great effort answered, "Surprise me."

(dumb, dumb, dumb, dumb, dumb)

We heard about a jock who wanted to be a stud. So he had himself strapped to a snowtire.

1st Jock: Bill, stand in front of my car and tell me if my blinkers are working.

2nd Jock: No ... yes ... no ... yes ... no ... yes ... no ... yes ...

There was a jock so lazy that he married a pregnant woman.

We heard of a jock who stayed up all night studying for his urine test.

I was riding the GO train out to Mississauga (where?) the other day and I turned to the person next to me and said, "Do you want to hear a Jock joke?" He stared icily back at me and replied, "But I'm Bill Hallett and I'm a jock!"

Last fall on back campus, Phys. Ed. was playing Victoria College a game of football. When the referee blew the final whistle, the Vic boys went home. Four plays later, Phys. Ed. scored a touchdown.

Last week a jock walked up to me and asked why the Queen's head was on most of the stamps. Reflecting upon this, I thought of John Diefenbaker and replied, "because if her ass was on them, nobody would lick them."

Paul Channing who is a teacher, (but he really wanted to be a jock) had a bad boy named Jamie in the class. The reason was that every time he answered a question he swore and this upset Paul. One day Paul asked his class to think of a word that started with A. Jamie put up his hand right away but he was ignored and Barbie answered "Apple". Then Paul asked for a word starting with the letter B. Jamie waved his hand but to no avail. And Gort answered "Baker". So Paul continued through the alphabet, not letting Jamie answer, until he got to R. Paul couldn't think of any thing bad that started with R, so he finally said, "OK Jamie go ahead." So Jamie stood up and said, "Rats. Big Fucking-Rats."

Sick J*ikes

A man was travelling quite pleasantly from Toronto to Montreal by train last week. The ride was very quiet and smooth so that the steady clackety-clack of the wheels soon lulled him to sleep. All of a sudden, he was awoken by a tremendous crashing noise. Then the train started to lurch and jerk from side to side. The man was thrown out of his seat and tossed to the other side of the car. The incredible swerving and weaving of the entire train caused him to roll up and down the aisle several times. This insane state of affairs lasted for twenty minutes. Then, just as suddenly, the ride became smooth again and all was smooth as before. Picking himself off the floor, the man, amazed by what had just happened, brushed himself off and went up to the conductor.

"What the hell happened back there? Why was the train swaying and jerking back and forth for so long?"

"Oh yes, well, we ran over a Jock."

"All that commotion just because we ran over a Jock!"

"Yes, well, he was a mile off the track but we got him anyway!"

JOKES

Q: What happened when the Phys. Ed. library burned to the ground last week?

A: Both books were destroyed and one hadn't even been coloured in.

Who was the dumbest jock? The one who thought Einstein was 'one beer'.

What did the jock call his cocktail of Vodka and Milk of Magnesia?
"A Phillips Screwdriver."

A jock took a job with the Mafia. He was instructed to hi-jack a Jet. So he came back with Joe Namath.

At a fancy party, how can you identify the jock? He's the one with the yellow tennis shoes and the rusty zipper.

What happened after the jock lost a $50 bet on a T.V. football play?
He lost another $50 on the instant replay.

A great medical breakthrough was recently reported. The U of T doctors have just performed the first successful hernia transplant on a jock.

Two jocks at the funeral of their friend Bill Hallett were very sad. "He sure looks good," said one. "He should," remarked the other, "he just got out of the hospital."

There's a new birth control method used by the Phys. Ed. students called "Sulfa Denial". It's a derivative of No-acetol.

Know why the jock ate beans on Friday? So he could have a bubble bath on Saturday.

"Why do jocks have such pretty noses?"

"Because their hand picked."

We heard of a jock who was so dumb he thought 'Innuendo' was the Italian word for Preparation H.

1st Jock: My brother's got a case of hemorrhoids.

2nd Jock: Well, let's go over and help him drink it.

A jock arrived in Montreal two weeks late for the Olympics on his trip from Laurentian. He explained the delay: "Well, I kept seeing those signs, 'Clean Rest Rooms' so I had to clean 400 on the way out."

Why are jocks allowed only 15 minutes for lunch break?
Any longer and they'd have to be retrained.

What did the jock do with the Gold Medal he won at the Olympics?
He was so proud of it, he had it bronzed.

Describe a compass used by jocks on a cross-country race. It has the letters W E S N on it, plus a small mirror to show who's lost.

Then there was the jock who went ice fishing. He brought back 50 pounds of ice, which was fine, but he didn't know whether to fry it or bake it.

A Phys. Ed. grad entered the Indianapolis 500. He had to make 75 pit stops ... 3 for gas and oil and tire changes, and 72 to ask directions.

Then there was the jock who noticed the sign, 'Wet Pavement'. So he did.

There's a new drink that is becoming popular with the jocks, a mixture of Vodka and prune juice. It's called "Pile Driver".

A Phys. Ed. student, on vacation in Africa, went on an elephant hunt. However, he was forced to turn back when he developed a hernia from carrying the decoy.

Q: How do they brain wash a jock?

A: Give 'em an enema.

* * *

Two Phys. Ed. students from Norway just arrived in Canada and encountered their first hot dog stand. Knute examined the interior of his hot dog and asked his companion, "Lars, what part of the dog did you get?"

A jock went to his doctor for a physical, complaining about his sex life. The doc told him to walk ten miles a day, then call him on the phone. A week later, the jock telephoned his doctor. "How's your sex life?" inquired the doc. "What sex life?" blurted the jock. "I'm seventy miles from home."

However, it is obvious that all the students benefit by having jocks on campus. They serve as a constant reminder to use deodorant daily. They show you that thinking is healthy for you (despite the fact they seem to get along without it). They show you what carefully planned diets of hammers and nails, properly scheduled exercises such as banging yourself on the head with five pound sledge hammers, and the merits of a pleasing smile with most of your teeth missing or swallowed after being punched in the face.

We should have great respect for your jocks, and show them kindness, as you would others suffering mental diseases. When you come upon two jocks arguing about which is the more fit physically, you should say to them "Run along like nice little boys and go drop an anvil on your heads". (Don't expect too much of the jocks. First point out which is their heads. It would be best to give them a picture to take along with them). And last of all, remember that scolding them severely will only serve to make them cry, so try not to reprimand them unless you have a treat for them afterwards.

I was riding the GO train out to Mississauga (where?) the other day and I turned to the person next to me and said, "Do you want to hear a Jock joke?" He stared icily back at me and replied, "But I'm Bill Hallett and I'm a jock!"

The Three Advent Speakers

When products become best-sellers largely on the strength of word-of-mouth advertising, and when people consistently go out of their way to write the company and say thanks for making them, you have reason to believe that something special is going on. The something special is this. The three speakers described below do exactly what they are represented to do.

The Advent Loudspeaker

The original Advent was designed to compete in every audible respect with the most expensive speakers available, at a fraction — often a very small fraction — of their cost. Its useful frequency range is as wide as any speaker's, and its sound is clean, clear, and beautifully defined, with a musical balance that is satisfying not just with the best recordings or one kind of musical material, but with the whole range of music and the various ways of recording it. Its bass response is approached by only a handful of speakers at any price, and surpassed by none. It costs $144 to $162 depending on cabinet finish.

The Smaller Advent Loudspeaker

The smaller Advent was designed to do exactly what the original Advent does, at half the size and two-thirds the cost, except that it will not play quite as loud. Its range and overall sound are the same as the original (not close, but the same), and for anything short of roof-raising volume levels in really big rooms, you would be very hard-pressed to hear any difference between original and Smaller. The Smaller Advent costs $99.

The Advent/2

This is the newest Advent and it sounds just like the other two except that it doesn't have the final half-octave of bass response that they do. It's designed to get the absolute maximum of useful performance at lowest cost, and its own low price is made lower still by the fact that it works superbly with low-cost, low-power amplifiers and receivers. It comes in a beautiful, warm-white molded cabinet instead of the usual low-cost imitation wood finish, and since the enclosure does what a wood one does at far lower weight, it's much easier to mount on a wall or shelf.

The Advent/2 hasn't had as much time as the other Advents to get word-of-mouth going. But it will. What it does is enable people to put together a stereo system for $450 or less that isn't a "starter" or a compromise for a tight budget, but a joy to live with ever after. The Advent/2 costs $77.50.

To check the accuracy of the above statements, just bring along your eyes and ears and (whatever shape it's in these days) your common sense. You'll have a good time listening to the Advents in our showroom, and when you get them home, you'll know why people keep telling each other about them.
